Russia Calls All Boys 15-16 Into Army

MOSCOW, May 29 (AP)—All Soviet youths of the eighth and ninth grades—between 13 and 16 years old—have been called for army training, scheduled to begin June 1, it was announced today.

In announcing the call up, which he said would be 100 per cent, Lt. Gen. Pronin, chief of administration of general training of the people's commissariat for defense, declared "the general military training in the present period would be conducted on an even higher level than in the days of war."

The new program is the largest peacetime training schedule ever entered in Russia.

Gen. Pronin said "there should not be a youth to miss these musters."

The 16-and-16-year-olds will receive military training in the field from the best veterans of the second World War. This training follows graduation of the seventh class or 17-year-olds who will undergo examinations for officer specialists June 1.

"The peaceful period into which our country has entered," Gen. Pronin said, "should not lessen our attention to problems of defense."

He called on all members of the Young Communist League to aid in the muster and training. Pronin cited as specific aims inculcation of "decisiveness, endurance, stubbornness and initiative."

"Officers and teachers," he said, "are responsible for the patriotic military education of the youth. All camp training should be founded on the basis of experiences in the patriotic war. Camp muster should play an important part in the cause of military training and the physical hardening of our youth in a peaceful state."

Sergei Kaftanov, chairman of the committee of affairs of the higher schools, writing in the newspaper Bolshoi said Russians during the war built improved and powerful combat ships for the Red navy. He gave no details.

Siberian Troops Train in Combat

MOSCOW, May 29 (AP)—Siberian garrisons and students in Siberian military schools have left bases for summer combat training camps, the Army newspaper Red Star said today.

Lt. Gen. Gavrilenko will be in charge of summer operations in Siberia, which will center around a tent city on the Tomi river.

Chinese Press Into Indo-China

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, May 29 (AP)—Chinese forces pressing along the highway leading southwestward into Indo-China have reached the vicinity of Shulo, more than 60 miles from recaptured Yunnan (Nanning) the high command announced tonight.

The advance widened the breach in the main highway in Japan's China-Indo-China corridor to approximately 120 miles.

The high command said fierce fighting raged in the vicinity of Yunnan. Both sides were reported suffering heavy casualties.

Observers in Chungking speculated whether the Japs, if forced out of Pinyang would withdraw to the rail city of Luochow or east toward Canton and Hongkong.

Fires Spread In Yokohama

By HAMILTON W. FARON

GUAM, May 29 (AP)—Super fort crews returning today from their heaviest daylight raid on Japan reported they had lighted giant fires in the industrial section of Yokohama in the first strike against Tokyo's port city. More than 450 B-29s loosed 3200 tons of bombs in their

ALL YOKOHAMA ABLAZE—Great fires are spreading over the entire city of Yokohama, industrial and shipping center, 18 miles south of Tokyo, following a gigantic attack by 450 B-29s who loosed 3200 tons of fire bombs on Japan's fifth largest city. Water-front, industrial, commercial and residential areas came under the bomber sights. More than 1,000,000 persons were driven underground by the attack.

Jap Top Navy Chief Is Ousted

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29 (AP)—In a new shake-up of top-ranking Japanese navy posts, V. Adm. Jisaburo Ozawa replaced Adm. Soemu Toyoda in the three highest fleet commands, Domei News Agency reported today.

Adm. Toyoda was removed as commander-in-chief of the combined fleet, commander-in-chief of the recently created over-all naval command, and commander of naval escorts.

Britain Names Nazi Prosecutor

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Atty. Gen. David Maxwell Fyfe was appointed British representative today on the big power board of prosecution for leading Nazis.

He will serve with Justice Robert H. Jackson and presumably with representatives of Russia and France not yet named. Jackson was here reviewing progress of indicting prominent German war criminals.

Prime Minister Churchill announced appointment of Sir David after Lt. Col. Anthony Murlowe, Conservative, asked if Churchill would see that notorious Nazis are dispatched with maximum speed and, pending that, maintained in prison cells and not in hotels.

Nazis' Lord Haw Haw is Shot, Captured

LUENEURG, Germany, May 29 (AP)—Scar-faced William Joyce, better known as Lord Haw Haw, Goebbels' anti-British mouth-piece, was shot in the thigh and captured at the Danish border near Flensburg yesterday and his condition is reported critical.

Lord Haw Haw

A British soldier fired when Joyce made a threatening move with his hand in his pocket.

Joyce is being transferred to Lueneburg by ambulance, a senior intelligence officer with the British Second Army said.

An authoritative source said there was strong probability he would have to stand trial for treason in the country he tried vainly to undermine.

Lord Haw Haw is William Joyce, 39, a native of New York, where he was born of Irish parents. An early British Fascist, his face was slashed by a razor 20 years ago during a fight with British Communists.

Joyce was a tool of the Goebbels propaganda ministry. His polished voice and precise English accent were attained at London University, where he was graduated with honors in 1927.

Throughout the war, he sought to discourage British and American radio audiences with accounts of German air blows at London and other British cities, and over every achievement of German arms. Even while he was boasting of the blitz, German bombers destroyed the London home of Lord Haw Haw's father, Michael Joyce, who died in February of 1941.

Haw Haw, far from undermining British morale, however, steered the British and provided them with one of their few grim entertainments, during the dark days of the war.

At one time his sarcasm and "views on the news," frequently dealing with British internal problems, were broadcast over a wide German network.

Troops of Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's British Second Army captured the short, chunky broadcaster.

British Casualty Total: 1,128,315

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today the British Empire armed forces had suffered 1,128,315 casualties during the war, in-third strike in six days within a 20-mile radius of the imperial palace.

Airmen reported smoke billowed four miles above the city and predicted destruction would rank with that of previously highly effective air raids against other major Japanese industrial cities. The enemy's high command conceded "considerable damage."

Clouds of black smoke, such as comes from burning oil, were reported pouring up from Yokohama's highly inflammable commercial core.

A strong wind appeared to be spreading the fires through automotive, aircraft, shipbuilding and rubber plants.

An enemy communique said some of the raiders swept on northward to hit Tokyo and the industrial town of Kawasaki, which lies between the capital and the port city.

The Jap communique claimed 30 planes were shot out of the attacking force, which it placed at "some 500" B-29s and "some 100" Mustang fighters from Iwo Jima. It asserted 40 others were damaged.

Superfort crews reported all attacking aircraft driven off. The absence of enemy fighters was at least partly due to a 1500-mile round trip flight yesterday by Mustangs from their Iwo Jima bases to make neutralizing raids on three airfields near Tokyo, including the Kasumigaura naval air station. Forty-two Japanese planes were destroyed or damaged in that sweep.

The 21st Bomber Command reserved an official estimate of damage from today's mass raid until poststrike photographs have been studied. But returning airmen said fire bombs were dropped with concentrated precision in clear weather and left "block after block" in flames.

Superforts have unloaded 11,700 tons of fire bombs in their last three strikes, involving 1500 sorties, seeking to paralyze the heart of Japan's war industry.

TWENTY-FIRST BOMBER COMMAND, Guam, May 29 (AP)—Fires are "burning all over Yokohama," crews returning today from the 450 plane Superfortress raid on Japan's second largest port reported.

2 Armies Tighten Grip on Shuri

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, May 29 (AP)—In the wake of Jap suicide air attacks which sank one light U. S. fleet unit and damaged 12 in Okinawa waters, American infantrymen slogged down both sides of the muddy island today to begin closing a pincers around stubbornly defended fortress Shuri.

Adm. Nimitz, announcing damage to the fleet, said at least 77 Jap raiders were shot down as they attacked Sunday night and Monday. He gave no details beyond saying our damage was "light to moderate."

The raids were the second in a week, and cost the Japs more than 240 planes. Thursday they lost 166 planes, damaged 23 American fleet units and sank one.

Driving rains for a week have turned the island's roads into ribbons of soupy mud, then slackened off, permitting 10th Army ground forces to resume attacks. A swift stab by Sixth Division

Marines under Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., who for a week patiently expanded their Naha bridgehead, swept through the western two-thirds of the island capital yesterday.

Associated Press Correspondent Al Dopping reported the Seventh Division's 184th Regiment, under Col. Roy A. Green, pressed nearly two miles south of Yonabaru on the eastern flank, penetrating Ogishima and Shinzato to isolate Chinen peninsula.

MANILA, May 29 (AP)—Capture of Wawa dam, a source of distressed Manila's water supply, appeared imminent today. A mechanized column of the 38th Infantry Division bore down on the dam in a frontal assault.

Capture of Santa Fe, important road junction of the mountainous southern approach to the extensive Cagayan valley—the Japanese last-stand corridor on northern Luzon—was reported today by Gen. MacArthur.

The 25th Division pushed into Santa Fe against little opposition. The 32d Division, moving along the Villa Verde trail to the west, was within three miles of the town.

Freed Vets Land Here

Pouring happily ashore at the Army Base from a small transport, 978 American overseas veterans liberated from Nazi prison camps were unanimous today in their denunciation of the brutal treatment by their captors and in their joy at reaching their native land.

The transport, brought to the Port of Embarkation by the Army Transportation Corps, was operated under a War Shipping Administration contract with its private owner and also carried 433 sick and wounded veterans of European service.

Waiting at the dock to greet returning veterans was a Negro band from nearby Camp McKay, under direction of WO John T. Bright, which poured out "hoogie woogie" tunes for the edification of the soldiers while details of docking were attended to by stevedores.

Another small transport, carrying additional repatriated veterans who had been rescued from Nazi prison camps, was expected to dock at the East Boston terminal later today.

As lugs nosed the transport into the pier, the returning veterans crowded the rails, shouting at dock workers and exchanging quips with waiting newspapermen.

A call for Greater Boston men brought 2 Lt. Mark Moore of Jeannette ave., Belmont, to the rail. Pilot of a Flying Fortress, he had been shot down by a Focke-Wulf 190 over Posen a year ago today.

He was confined in Breslau prison camp until the Russians approached, whereupon he was forced to march to a camp at Mossberg. With him Sgt. Thomas Yates of Uxbridge, whose B-26 was shot down over France May 31. They met at Mossberg and have become fast friends.

Both were vehement in their

Bride, 17, Goes On Hunger Strike

WAKEFELD, Ill., May 29 (AP)—

Mrs. Betty Lou Camm Dice, 17-year-old bride of four days, says she won't eat until she is reunited with her husband, 36.

They were placed in jail yesterday after Mrs. Dice's mother, Mrs. Earl Camm, obtained warrants charging Dice with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and her daughter with delinquency.

"I love him, and I'll never go home again," said the blonde, blue-eyed Betty Lou. "As long as they keep me in jail I won't eat."

Her husband, employee of an auto body shop, did not spurn his food and said "our love will never cool."

They are being held pending a hearing on June 4.

N.E. Men Save 700 In Baby Flat-Top Sinking by U-Boat

Dramatic details of one of the most sensational battles of the Atlantic were disclosed today by the Navy, telling of the thrilling rescue of 700 crew members of the USS Block Island, only U. S. escort carrier lost in that ocean.

It gave a first-hand account of war's closest sea battle, a fierce hand-to-hand encounter between a destroyer escort crew and an enemy submarine boarding party.

The details, revealing the heroism of Massachusetts men, spoke of courage, of sacrifice, of superb seamanship, and of a determined will to win which finally dealt death to the German undersea raider of the Block Island.

Taking part in the revenge on the escort carrier's attacker were five escort vessels—the USS Ahrens, USS Eugene E. Elmore, USS Barr, USS Robert L. Paine and the USS Buckley.

The Ahrens and the Buckley, both Bethlehem-Hingham built ships, played a major role in the battle and rescue one year ago today. Heroism in the engagement occurred on such a scale that Lt.-Com. Brent M. Abel, 28, USNR, of Scarsdale, N. Y., a Harvard graduate who commanded the Buckley, abandoned a desire to make individual citations and recommended his entire crew.

Com. Morgan H. Harris, USNR, widely-known Boston yachtsman, skipper of the Ahrens, performed the double feat of directing rescue of the Block Island crew while instructing another DE to sink the sub.

The Block Island was struck shortly after 8 p. m. by two torpedoes, one in the bow, the other in the stern. The carrier crew and the Elmore spotted a periscope and the Elmore sped to the strike as a third torpedo hit the Block Island amidship, leaving her dead in the water, and the Ahrens moved in to rescue survivors.

In the midst of the rescue, the Ahrens picked up the sound of a sub and radioed the sub's position. The Elmore pressed the battle and destroyed the sub.

The Buckley's bitter fight with another enemy sub happened shortly before the Block Island was hit. One of the carrier's planes spotted the raider and a salvo from the escort hit the sub's foremast and the Buckley moved in for the kill. Com. Abel determined to ram the Nazi ship. He did.

Men swarmed out of the sub and up on the Buckley's forecastle. Two Germans were bowled over by heavy coffee mugs. Small arms fire ended the efforts of several others. When the Buckley finally backed off, the DE had five prisoners aboard. A few minutes later the Buckley let go full blast and the sub went to the bottom followed by a heavy under-water explosion.

Lt. Com. Abel received the Navy Cross. Lt. Com. Harris of the Ahrens was awarded the Gold Star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit.

Massachusetts men who received commendations were Lt. William J. Rogers, Jr., USNR, of Munroe rd., Quincy, then executive officer of the Ahrens, and PM 1c William Clyde Higgins, of Jamaicaaway, Boston, of the Ahrens' crew.

Cox. Harold Roy Simms, USNR, son of Mrs. Gladys Wynn Simms, of Pleasant st., Attleboro, now in the Pacific and Chief Carpenter Clarence M. Bailey, USN, son of Mrs. Louise F. Burke, of Concord sq., Boston, were decorated for heroism for remaining aboard the Block Island to rescue trapped and wounded shipmates.

Two of the Block Island's planes, which made for the Canary Islands after their carrier went down, were flown by Bay State pilots. One, Lt. John F. Carr,

N. Y. Has 4-Way Housing Swap

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—The Marshall Rosetts, who are expecting an increase in the family, moved into the Sol Wolfman apartment today because it was larger.

The Wolfmans, also seeking more space, moved into Mrs. Suzanne Guggenheim's seven-room suite. Mrs. Guggenheim, who wanted smaller quarters since her daughter's marriage, took over Carl Kinzler's five-room apartment.

Kinzler took over the Rosett apartment because he needed only three rooms—and thus the first four-way housing "swap" on record in Manhattan became a reality.

The families employed the same trucking firm and moved in shifts.

Britain Warns Paris on Syria

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Foreign Secy. Anthony Eden broadly hinted today France should withdraw reinforcements sent to the Levant states, in order to avoid a possible flareup in the Arab world that would hamper prosecution of the Pacific war.

French-Arab Split Perilous

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign News Analyst

It is a tragic circumstance that, while the United Nations labor in San Francisco to create a world peace structure, a bloody clash at arms should be going on among countries represented at the conference.

The fighting in Syria between French troops and natives is at best a nasty affair, and it could develop into an upheaval involving many countries if it were allowed to run its course. The United States and England are using their best offices to try to halt it.

What's happened in Syria is this: When Syria and its little neighbor, Lebanon, were taken from Turkey at the end of the last war, they were placed under French mandate. However, the peoples of both these countries have always been fiercely independent and pressed for liberty until France promised it for June 1, 1944. Britain guaranteed their independence. However, France continued to maintain troops there and has been negotiating for special privileges.

Recently France moved in more troops, saying this was for the purpose of establishing bases for the movement of forces to the Pacific for the war against Japan.

Then the trouble started. Withdrawal of all French troops was demanded. The French didn't comply and fighting has broken out in Syria.

Here enters another element—the newly created Union of Arab States. This comprises Egypt, Iraq, Transjordan, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon and the Yemen. The union estimates that this affects a population of some 80,000,000 Arabs.

One of the things which the union opposes is western domination and all its members have come within the "sphere of influence" of England and France. The general secretary of the union is the Egyptian Minister of Arab affairs, Abdel Rahman Azzam Bey.

The Union of Arab States is giving its moral support to Syria and Lebanon. They lack substantial means to employ force. However, their opposition is in itself a serious thing. Moreover, the Arabs are likely to get the sympathy of other Moslem states, even though the latter are not Arabic. Indeed, Indian Moslems already are voicing their sympathy.

One of the worst aspects of this situation is its threat to friendly relations between England and France.

9-Story 'So Long'

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Tony Gale, 55, a composer who did arranging for Kate Smith's radio program, spent his 42nd st. office piano today thumping out chords as two other musicians listened.

Suddenly Gale, whose name was Anthony Galatolo, stood up. He said "So long" to his companions, walked to an open window and plunged nine floors to his death.

The two musicians, Paul Ricci and John Lawson gave police details but could not explain the action.

Dispatch of fresh French troops to Syria and Lebanon led to outbreaks in those areas, which are presenting a united front in demanding a showdown with France on their demands for independence.

Eden told Commons "the net increase of French troops is very small—about 500 men—but His Majesty's government have told the French government of their fear their arrival may cause regrettable actions."

Calling on all parties to "behave with caution and prudence," Eden declared it would be "inexcusable if developments in Syria or Lebanon" interfered with war against Japan.

The United States is "closely concerned" about the situation, he added. Eden said French reinforcements arrived in Beyrouth about the time the French delegate-general brought French proposals for a final settlement between France and the Levant states. He did not elaborate on the proposals.

"There were hopes negotiations were to begin, but unhappily they were timed with arrival of these reinforcements. We express regret about that, and now we have to start again to see if we cannot better the situation."

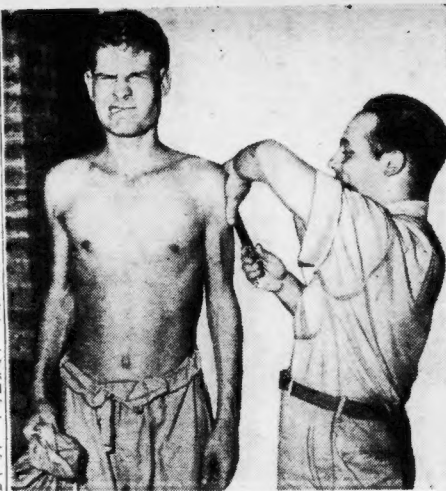

The two Middle East French mandates, backed by the Arab league, appeared to be forcing a showdown which may cost France part of her empire.

Fighting already has broken out in Syria between French forces and natives protesting their presence.

The French were reported to have the main street of Hama under continual cross-fire yesterday, shooting at anybody venturing on the street, while French artillery shells had knocked out one wall of the Sarail (government building).

Syrians ambushed and captured three French armored cars, killing six crewmen and wounding three others.

MOSCOW, May 29 (AP)—Alexei, patriarch of Moscow and all the Russians, left today with 11 other dignitaries of the Russian Orthodox Church for a visit to the Middle East, including trouble-torn Syria and Lebanon.

Fitzpatrick's Wife Lists Lavish Living

Claiming her millionaire husband would not let her live with him and did not support her "suitably," Mrs. Anna B. Fitzpatrick of Portland, Ore., today sought separate support.

In Middlesex Probate Court from Thomas M. Fitzpatrick of New-tonville, Boston drew goods wholesale.

Fitzpatrick entered a cross action seeking separation, charging desertion.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, mother of four children, told Judge George M. Poland her husband sent her to Oregon in 1940 and would not let her return. She testified she had to borrow $1000 to come east for the trial.

She testified that she was accustomed to living luxuriously and that her monthly allowance Fitzpatrick sent her was not sufficient. She said she used to spend $50,000 a year before they began living apart.

Fitzpatrick gave her an allowance of $500 a month during the time they lived in New York City, she said. Her mother urged she get more money and he raised the amount to $1000 for three or four months, she testified.

Under cross-examination she said she owned a $6700 mink coat which had been remodeled twice. She said the first alterations cost $1000 and second, two years ago, $400.

She also testified she recently purchased tires costing $157 for her Cadillac convertible coupe. She said she loans her car to war workers in order to hold a "C" gasoline ration coupon. She said she did not charge the workers for borrowing the car.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick testified that her husband still sends her a monthly check but did not disclose the amount. She said he also pays the household expenses of the Portland, Ore., home.

Fitzpatrick took the stand briefly to testify that his annual income is $40,000 and that his holdings are worth approximately $1,000,000.

The case is continuing.

6500 Die in RAF Ship Bombing

Edward B. Close of Greenwich, Ct., governor of the American Hospital in Paris, today reported details of the deaths of 6500 civilian prisoners, drowned off the German coast May 3 when RAF rocket-flying Typhoons struck two German ships on which they were confined. The sinkings lack Allied confirmation.

Close told the Associated Press in Paris he had received a letter from the 17-year-old son of Dr. Summer Jackson, former Boston physician, stating his father was among those killed. The son, Peter Jackson, said he was one of the few to be saved.

Suit filed in superior court said she married Pvt. Paul Pollock Sept. 7, 1943, and he was killed in Germany, Oct. 24, 1944. She learned of his death on Nov. 8, the suit said, and

AUSTEN LAKE DELUGED WITH MAIL
Thousands Commend His Fight for Boy's Freedom

Public Hails Lake For McGee Story

In an increasing flood, congratulatory letters and messages are pouring in on Austen Lake, Boston American columnist, for the leading role he played in exposing the court-martial of Pvt. Joseph McGee for cutting Nazi prisoners—a denunciation which brought the Worcester soldier his freedom. The Boston City Council, too, took official cognizance of Lake's fight for McGee and unanimously adopted a resolution of Councilor Philip A. Fish of Dorchester commending the columnist publicly for his "fairmindedness and patriotic courage" in bringing the matter to public attention.

The resolution also commended Cong. John W. McCormack for leading the fight in Washington prompted by Lake's disclosure.

Members of all branches of the service—100 per cent for McGee—"business and professional leaders, mothers of sons overseas, persons from all walks of life were as one in agreement that the dishonorable discharge and two-year prison term—revoked last Saturday—were excessive punishment.

All praised Lake for his expose of the situation and for the merciless marshaling of the facts which led to a review of the Worcester youth's case and his restoration to duty by the War Department.

"Congratulations for the splendid job," wrote Edward J. Kelley, Metropolitan district water supply commissioner. "I take my hat off to you. Your praises are being sung in every section of Worcester."

"Only in America could such forceful presentation of the McGee incident result in such prompt back-watering by the 'Brass Hats,'" said Merchant Mariner Tom White. "I've seen too much 'rank' pulled on the kids we brought over. Let's make the 'Brass Hats' realize this is the people's war."

From Stamford, Ct., Atty. George O. Tiffany wrote that he had asked Congresswoman Luce to take action in McGee's case but that developments had been too swift for her to intercede.

"Sincere thanks to you from the father of a boy in the armed forces for your successful fight to have Pvt. McGee reinstated," said Henry J. Kitchen, of Pine St., Fall River.

"We're with you and Pvt. McGee 100 per cent," wrote a group of sailors and Marines from the Newport, R. I., Naval Hospital. "We'd have done the same thing if we were in McGee's shoes."

"I have a son over there and I thank God there are men like you to fight for him and the rest of the GIs. Keep up the good work and God bless you for it," said Mrs. Alice G. Furey, of Franklin St., Medford.

"I'd like to give you a big pat on the back for your articles on Pvt. McGee," wrote H. J. MacFarlane, a discharged Army veteran. "Why should we slug this soldier for 'insulting' nine self-confessed murderers? Premeditated murder calls for a major pen-

New Hub Transit System Urged

Construction of an extended rapid transit system in Greater Boston will end transportation deficits and produce a profit of $700,000 a year, Carroll E. Meins of State Public Utilities Commission declared today.

Meins spoke at a public hearing in Gardiner auditorium on the report of the Metropolitan Transit Reversion Commission which advocated establishment of an integrated rapid transit system.

"If no action is taken and Boston attempts to carry on with its present system, it is clear taxpayers will be faced with ever-increasing deficits to be met by the tax rate," he said.

Senate Pres. Arthur W. Coolidge, chairman of the commission said "dry rot will set in" if action on easing Boston's transportation problem is not taken immediately.

U. S. Sen. Saltzman, who recommended the commission in 1943, wrote a letter to the hearing in which he stated it is "imperative" Boston have a co-ordinated transit system.

Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy was also recorded in favor of the $48,000,000 system in a letter read by Meins.

Recommendation that the state acquire control of the Boston El as proposed in the report was endorsed by Judge Gilbert W. Cox, commission counsel.

Prof. William J. Cunningham of Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, and Chairman Elizabeth M. Herlihy of the State Planning Board, also spoke in favor of the plan.

Jay Wesley, 33, for more than six years one of Boston's best known radio announcers, was struck and killed by an auto in Rella, Mo., last night, according to word received here today.

A native of Oklahoma, Wesley was en route to the West Coast with his family to become announcer on the summer replacement show for the Bob Hope program. The Wesleys and their three children had stopped overnight at Rella and were walking to a hotel from a highway restaurant when he was struck by a hit-run driver. He died a few minutes after being taken to a hospital.

The announcer had been working until recently for the radio division of the Office of War Information.

Job Crisis Seen By November

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—War demands will turn loose 4,800,000 workers and fighters in the next six months but fewer persons will be seeking jobs than three months from now.

Joblessness during that time, he said, will jump about 1,100,000 persons to around 1,500,000.

Krug said about 700,000 of those to be released from war production in the next three months will continue or soon find employment in plants shifting to civilian production.

Others, he added will be absorbed in civilian-manufacturing, construction trades and services, and other civilian occupations, nevertheless, he figures there will be a net increase of 1,100,000 in unemployment.

22 YEARS IN NEW ENGLAND!

22-year Thumbnail story!

American Airlines' current air service in New England is the vigorous outgrowth of the Bee Line, Inc., which inaugurated a charter service out of Naugatuck, Conn., on March 12, 1923. In the years that followed, reorganizations and consolidations of American's predecessor companies brought several changes in name—finally to American Airlines, Inc., in 1934—but always New England was served.

• VOLUME OF SERVICE has expanded tremendously over the years:

There was but ONE round trip daily between Boston and New York in February, 1929. Today, American provides 25 round trips daily.

• FARES ARE LOWER by far. One-way fare between Boston and New York was $34.85 in April, 1929. Today, it is only $9.75.

• AMERICAN AIRLINES' "FIRSTS" reflect American's progressiveness:

FIRST sleeper plane service.

FIRST Douglas DC-3 Flagships.

FIRST to link the United States by air with both Canada and Mexico.

FIRST low-cost Airfreight service for every-day shippers.

FIRST airline to carry a million passengers (and the millionth was in Boston!).

IT HAS been 22 years, now, since air transportation first came to New England.

In 1923, American Airlines' first predecessor began operation out of Naugatuck, Conn. It was a modest start, but it was the beginning of the Flagship service as you know it today. It was the beginning of what is still New England's first airline. Over the span of 22 years of pioneering, improvement and expansion, American Airlines and its predecessor companies have served this region without interruption; always, we have done our utmost to provide the best service.

Today, every part of the nation, no matter how many miles away, is within only a few hours of New England. Today, American's Flagships bring New Englander's within swift, easy reach of scores of cities throughout the U. S., Canada and Mexico. The Route of the Flagships provides Boston with direct, through service to Chicago, Washington, the Southwest, Los Angeles and many intermediate cities. Today there are 25 Flagships commuter flights each way, every day, between Boston and New York.

New England's development as an air transportation hub is inseparably linked with the history of American Airlines. Now, as we contemplate future expansion, we look forward to continuing our contribution to the further development of New England as a cultural and commercial center.

Stettinius Airs Plea For U. S.-Red Unity

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29 (AP)—A frank bid by Secretary of State Stettinius for closer relations focused American foreign policies on Soviet issues today and swung the United States toward the role of mediator among the great powers.

Events abroad and blunt words here made even more clear that the success of United Nations efforts to preserve world peace will depend largely on the ability of the big powers to work together.

This would have to be under self-imposed restraints, since the organization being drafted by the United Nations Conference imposes few restraints upon the top powers.

Stettinius summed this up in a defense of the veto voting formula by which each of the Big Five nations could prevent a world security council from using force against an aggressor. The question has been raised, he said, as to what happens if one of the Big Five—Russia, the United States, China, Britain or France—"embarks upon a course of aggression and refuses to recognize the machinery of the world organization?"

"In such an event," Stettinius continued, "the answer is simple, another world war has come, with or no vote, and the world organization has failed."

Stettinius spoke by radio last night to Americans at home and the armed forces abroad.

In Moscow and London, Harry Hopkins and Joseph E. Davies, as special envoys of President Truman, explored the possible accomplishments of an expected Big Three meeting. The goal is a key to the Polish puzzle and settlement of other conflicts of big-power interest in eastern Europe.

Woman Battles Attacker in Lynn

An early morning beating and attempted attack on Irene Bourque, 47, of Summer st., Lynn, in a lonely section of Salem near the scene of the slaying of Frances Cochran four years ago, prompted a search by Lynn and Salem police today for an unidentified taxicab driver.

The woman, her face blood-stained, her clothing torn and without shoes or stockings, was found wandering in Lynn and taken to police headquarters.

She said she had several drinks in a West Lynn cafe and a friend summoned a taxicab to drive her home. Instead, she said, the driver took her to a lonely spot off Highland ave., Salem, and beat her when she resisted his advances. She could give only a hazy description.

That's one way to look at the Pennsylvania Railroad system—as a vast assembly line, now principally devoted to war transportation—26,000 miles of railroad facilities, crossing and criss-crossing a territory in which live half the people of the United States.

Over it flow coal to make power, light and heat . . . ore to produce steel . . . steel parts of a thousand different shapes and weights . . . rubber and textiles to manufacture tires . . . tanks, trucks, weapons, war materiel in abundance—in fact, most anything you can name, tiny or large. handles what you eat, from field, cannery, packing plant to market.

Lump all these materials, parts, commodities together—call them freight—and here's what this Pennsylvania Railroad assembly system moved in the region bounded on the west by Chicago and St. Louis and on the east by New York and Norfolk in a single year, ending Nov. 1, 1944 . . . 287,000,000 tons! An amount equal to more than four tons for each of the 65,000,000 persons living in the 13 states and the District of Columbia, served by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Q—My husband died recently and I have no income except Family Allowance from my son. I am not well and cannot work and this $50 is not enough for my expenses. I have no other children except a married son who is also in the service, but has a wife and child to support and cannot help me. Is there any way in which the $50 allowance from my single son can be increased? S. G., Roslindale.

A—The $50 Family Allowance is the maximum amount payable from one soldier. However, your married son may apply for Family Allowance on your behalf if he wishes. He now contributes $22 a month for his wife and child, and if payment was approved for you he would contribute $5 more. He would claim that you are dependent upon him for substantial support and if approved you would receive $37.00.

Q—I have two brothers in the service and they have Government insurance made out to my mother. She died last month. Who has the authority to name another beneficiary if the soldiers don't do it and anything happens to them? R. B., Brighton.

A—The soldiers are the only persons having authority to designate another beneficiary and must name one within the following bracket: wife, child, parent, brother or sister. If they do not designate a beneficiary and anything happens to either of them, the insurance would be paid to the person next in line to the mother; if the soldiers have no wife or child payment would go to their father. If he is not living, then to the soldiers' sister or brother in equal shares.

Q—My son was killed in action a month ago. I had a letter from him dated a few days before his death and he mentioned that he had not received any pay for almost three months. What happens to that money now? T. M., Melrose.

A—It will be paid to his beneficiary when claim is filed for Six Months' Gratuity Pay and Arrears in Pay. The claim forms are issued by Office of Special Settlement of Accounts in New York City.

Q—My son has been in the service for almost four years. I've been told that there should be an increase in my allotment for his length of service. Is this so? I receive $50 now. L. M., Brighton.

A—No, no increase is made in Family Allowance or an allotment because of the length of service of a soldier. For each three years of service he receives 5 per cent increase of his base pay.

Q—I am divorced from my husband and have been receiving Family Allowance for our child, $42 a month. I have learned that he is to remarry soon. Will the payments for our child be discontinued? K. G., Milton.

A—No, it will not be discontinued but it will be reduced to $30. $12 is paid for one child when no payment is made to a wife; with the addition of a wife the child is entitled to $30 a month.

Q—I am a veteran with an honorable discharge from the service. I own property and receive pension for service connected disability. I understand that persons receiving disability pension do not have to pay tax on real estate. What is the authority for this under the GI Bill? A. D., Kennebec, Maine.

A—Such exemption may be given by virtue of the State laws where the real estate is located. It is not a right given under the G. I. Bill. According to the laws of your state, according to 1930 Revised Statutes, an exemption is given up to $5000 to veterans who are totally disabled. As there may be provisions and amendments of a later date it is advised that you make inquiry to Mr. Clement F. Robinson, 85 Exchange st., Portland, Me., Chairman of the Committee on War Work of the Maine State Bar Association.

(Questions submitted Veterans' Friend Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this column which appears daily and in the Boston Sunday Advertiser.)

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
• Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. Three poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of rest and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Circus Gives $4200 to Veterans' Hospital Fund

Veterans in New England military hospitals were assured of extra comforts and luxuries today when Robert Ringling, president of Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus, presented a check for $4200 to Harold G. Kern, publisher of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, for these newspapers' Hospitalized Servicemen's Fund.

The check represented a sizeable percentage of proceeds from the circus matinee. The show served doubly to delight thousands of youngsters whose shouts and laughter resounded through Boston Garden. Four of the gayest among the thousands who ringed the sawdust arena were lads from Burroughs Newsboys Foundation, all seeing their first circus as guests of Mayor John E. Kerrigan, who escorted them to the matinee in person.

The mayor's guests included Walter Nehalsingh, 13, of Haskins st., a lad of East Indian blood who wears his hair in the traditional long locks of his people, in contrast to the strictly G.I. haircuts of two brothers, Al and laughter resounded through Uncle Sam's uniform. A North Station shine boy, Elbridge Moore, 13, of Spring st., guided the others about the Garden ramps, helping them spend the dollar which Mayor Kerrigan gave each for pocket money.

Mrs. Luce, recently returned from Europe, declared Russian ideas are "rushing over Europe and Asia at a greater speed than Nazi ideas did 10 years ago."

She added that 11 nations in central Europe "are directly controlled by local Communists or indirectly by Communists in Moscow."

Speaking before the Columbia University Faculty Club, the Connecticut Congresswoman said:

"The policy being used by the Soviet Union all over Europe is, (1) fratricidal; (2) exile or death to everybody in every country occupied by the Soviet, regardless of that person's political beliefs, if he does not follow the Soviet program; (3) to put guns and weapons into the hands of any discontented minority, regardless of their previous political beliefs provided that they do follow the Soviet program."

She continued: "No bloody Nazi nonsense darkens our mind about the fact that what the Nazis did was murder. Nor should any gory twaddle of the Communists deceive us that such deeds are not murder, too."

"Do those words, good and evil, justice and injustice, have the same meaning to average Americans as to the Communist leaders of the Russian people? Not only do they not have the same meaning—very often they have no meaning at all."

The "truth" in Russian diplomacy, Mrs. Luce said, is whatever happens to fit Soviet policies at the moment.

ROCK ISLAND recognizes that in modern rail-roading the smartest distance is the shortest, with the greatest freedom from grades. That is why it is eliminating curves and grades wherever possible; smoothing and straightening the way for the high-speed passenger and freight trains America demands today. That is better railroading!

Many track leveling and straightening projects are already completed, others are in progress, and still many more are planned. This continual activity, throughout the 14 states it serves, is part of ROCK ISLAND'S Program of Planned Progress.

Thus, ROCK ISLAND is doing a better war job...right now...putting traffic over its lines faster and in greater volume. And will be ready for the peacetime era when fine, fast transportation will carry the people and haul the goods to make America's future safe and secure, for...

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow, ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation!

GENTLEMEN, YOU MUST BUILD YOUR LINE TO SERVE OUR TOWN

America's pioneer railroads were built to serve as many early, struggling communities as possible. The railroads were the life-blood of the early nation they helped to build. Constant improvements have enabled ROCK ISLAND LINES to keep ahead of the demand for better, faster service. Shortening, straightening and leveling have made, and are making, our routes more direct, as we continue to serve an impressive number of American communities.

denunciation of the treatment accorded all prisoners by their Nazi captors.

"Don't talk about atrocities," shouted 2 Lt. Frank J. Murphy of East Fitchburg, South Boston. "I've seen too many of them."

He called over the rail he lost 10 pounds in the Nazi prison camp after being captured near Saarbrücken last fall.

"Fair," was the description of Capt. Robert Bennett, 25, of Calender St., Dorchester, of the treatment accorded him after his capture in Normandy soon after D-Day. He was pilot of a troop carrier, which was brought down by enemy ground fire after unloading its complement of paratroopers.

PFC Ray Eldridge of Harwich, port shouted a plea for someone to telephone his folks he was home safely. He was captured in the December breakthrough.

Trains were drawn up near the pier with hospital cars for litter cases. As the men debarked they climbed aboard the trains to be taken to Camp Myles Standish for assignment to hospitals or to be processed for redeployment or discharge.

First Greater Boston man to step ashore was PFC John J. Halloran, 22, of Mt. Vernon St., Brighton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Halloran. Overseas two and one-half years, he was stricken with a gland infection near Strasbourg and has been ill since.

"Let me get to a phone," were his first words. "I want to let my mother know I'm back."

He was followed by TS Thomas Guggliotte, 24, of Pleasant St., Norwood, who wanted most of all to see his wife, Helen, whom he left to go overseas just after their marriage 14 months ago.

PFC Albert Morris, 31, Gardland St., Jamaica Plain, a former Boston El motorman, also was filled with thoughts of home, his wife, Anna, and their children, John 4, and Loretta, 3. He was wounded by a sniper just after the Rhine crossing.

Another proud father was Sgt. Herbert Carr, Jr., of E. St., Walpole, looking forward to reunion with his wife, Mildred, and Herbert, 3d, who is 2½ years old. Carr was wounded twice just before the Rhine crossing.

For Pvt. Angelo Roffo, 24, of Rodman St., Quincy, the homecoming meant a chance to call up a "very special" girl friend in Quincy, for whom he admits he has a certain question he's hoping she can answer.

Other liberated prisoners who debarked included 2 Lts. Joseph Collins, an air force bombardier, of Tremont St., Roxbury, and Jack Parahour, of East Braintree. The latter, a prisoner for two years wanted to call his home immediately to let his family know he was back.

WOULD MAKE US PLAY OSTRICH

SEN. JOHNSON, Democrat of Colorado, made a serious error of judgment the other day when, before the Senate Finance Committee, he suggested cancellation of the $11,000,000,000 indebtedness to the Treasury of our World War I allies.

Mr. Johnson justified his recommendation on the ground that the debts were uncollectible and that it would be good to start out with a "clean slate."

It would be regrettable if the government followed Sen. Johnson's glib advice.

To do so would be to deprive the American people of the benefit of their experience, which can be a guide to action in the future.

To alter the record and eliminate the black marks of default would leave our people more susceptible than otherwise to further exploitation by foreign theorists and propagandists.

For example, at the Bretton Woods monetary and financial conference last July, Lord John Maynard Keynes, at a press conference, was fulsome with recommendations that the United States after this war again correct the international balance of payments with dollar loans.

When it was protested that such type of loans did not fare well after the last war, Lord Keynes, with amazing sophistry, countered that the loans were not set up well because "your bond salesmen were too eager."

Though the American bond salesmen or investment bankers may have made mistakes in connection with privately-placed foreign loans, their frailties had no bearing whatsoever on the default on the intergovernmental loans.

Between the two wars, these newspapers pointed out that Great Britain, for example, as a leading debtor, could extinguish the debt in part at least through liquidation of her foreign investments.

That this method was technically feasible has been demonstrated during World War II, when Great Britain actually did sell off her investments in order to get foreign purchasing power for munitions and other supplies. In addition, Great Britain has financed herself through making overdrafts on such associated peoples as India and Egypt through U. S. Lease-Lend.

In the circumstances, Sen. Johnson's "ostrich" device for taking a look away from the record would merely weaken us at a time when it behooves us to mobilize our national wisdom and common sense.

Obviously, instead of facing the real significance of his recommendation, Sen. Johnson was looking for a trick to circumvent the Johnson Act (introduced by Hiram Johnson of California) to prevent private loans to countries in default on the war debt.

If the Congress is to turn its back on the Johnson Act, it should face the issue squarely, and not furtively, as proposed by the Senator from Colorado.

DAY OF PRAYER

MEMORIAL DAY—or Decoration Day, as it is sometimes called—should be universally observed tomorrow with the traditional pageantry, with the customary pilgrimages to cemeteries, with prayers in every church, heart and home.

Memorial Day is one of our most beautiful and inspiring holidays. It is the uniquely solemn occasion when time stands still, merging yesterday, today and tomorrow and making it possible for us all to be united once more with the loved ones who are gone.

This year's Memorial Day is particularly meaningful, for we are privileged as a grateful nation to honor the thousands of our sons who gave their lives in this war in order that freedom and liberty might endure.

Let us pray for them.

And let us pray also for the men who will be similarly sacrificed in battles yet to be fought and won.

In the words of Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who founded Decoration Day in 1888, "in God's name, let us respect and love the dead who have died for us."

MY ADMIRATION for people of independent spirit has always been great. I am particularly partial to a wife who refuses to permit her husband to dominate her views. Senator "Happy" Chandler's baseball's $30,000 a year beauty, recently gave voice to a stern indictment of the sport of horse racing by ordering baseball people to stay away from race-tracks. The Senator's ruling was first ignored by Larry McPhail, head man of the highly important New York Yankees. Now, apparently to convince her fellow Kentuckians she is not in accord with her husband's unexpected attack on the favorite sport of his native State, Mrs. A. B. Chandler, the Senator's wife, attended the races at Churchill Downs the other day. Good for her. I wouldn't be at all surprised if when Mrs. Chandler arrived home from the races the Senator, after looking furtively about, whispered: "Darling, who won the sixth?"

Mrs. Chandler

ASIDES: A Chicagoan says he enjoyed "a shot of tequila" at a bar in Tia Juana, Mexico, in 1935. He adds: "This bar was 2 1/2 feet long. I measured it." . . . Add members MNIAP club: Irene Dineen, Chicago. Wonder if Irene is any relation to my old friend Bill Dineen, former American League pitcher and umpire. Bill was a fine pitcher, a good umpire and personally a grand fellow.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Nobody I ask seems to know the origin of the term "heel" as applied to a caddish individual. A—You have me stopped, too. Q—Don't you think it is a mistake for Mae West to revive "Diamond Lil"? Underneath her seeming sophistication she is really a sweet girl. Wouldn't it be better for her to do something that would reveal her truly charming personality? A—Maybe you are right. But I don't know just what to suggest for Mae's revival along the lines you mention. How about her starring in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm"? or in "When Patty Went to College?"

THAT WAGER: "How about that wager with Col. Winn regarding his statement these were no printed form charts in the heyday of the racetrack plunger, George E. 'Pittsburgh Phil' Smith?" asks a Bostonian. Haven't heard from the Colonel yet. However, I may be taking unfair advantage of the Colonel. I know there were printed form charts in the days of "Pittsburgh Phil" because, as a newsboy, I sold him one at the Sheephead Bay Track.

SIDEGLITS: In De Quincy, La., a 17-year-old feminine resident has already been twice a wife, once a mother, once a widow and is now about to become a divorcee. "Let Brooklyn try to top this," says my informant. . . . A Chicagoan says she believed in Santa Claus until she was 14 and was still writing the old boy letters at that age. That's quite a confession.

REPORTERS: Chicago reporters have always been unusually good newspaper men. They take nothing for granted and check everything thoroughly. I recently reported a Baltimorean stated that a coin tossed to fall on a smooth surface will turn up tails 8 per cent more than the heads will. And so what? Seven Chicago newspaper men immediately began tossing coins to check. They tossed a Jefferson nickel on a smooth surface with the following result: Tails 39, heads 61. Then a quarter was tossed with this result: Tails 37, heads 63.

CHAMPION: As to the question of how many strokes it takes to get a clean shave with a safety razor, Anthony Cerella of Chelsea says he can shave in 33 strokes or fewer and claims the shaving championship of the 13 original States.

COMIC TEAMS: So Abbott and Costello quarrelled and split for a while? Film comedians seem to have a difficult time sticking together. Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton split at the peak of their success as a comic team. Laurel and Hardy separated but later made up. Some stage teams have quarrelled, but not many. Weber and Fields split up. However, McIntyre and Heath remained together for 40 years. Smith and Dale have been together around 45 years. Olsen and Johnson for 25. And how about Ames? Andy? They should soon be celebrating their 20th anniversary as a team.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NO HONEST American observer of Communism as it has operated in the United States can have been surprised by the sudden abandonment of the pretense which had been maintained since Pearl Harbor and the renewal of open hostility to the American form and system of government.

This change was announced in a long article in the Daily Worker, the old party organ, by a French Communist named Jacques Duclos, which took precedence over the leadership of Earl Browder, who now appears to be a sacrificial goat.

Westbrook Pegler

Duclos damned Browder in Browder's own paper for heresy to the pure Marxian revolution and the class war and, such is the discipline of the international conspiracy, direct from Moscow. Browder had to run the piece with an editorial preface under his own signature humbly promising to take the matter up at the next meeting of the Communist organization.

IT GOES without saying that American Communism will now take off its whiskers or, more properly, resume the whiskers and take off that capitalistic plug hat and the plush waist adorned with dollar signs and picket the White House again.

For the purposes of Americans, this is all for the best. It vindicates those skeptics who, from years of observation, had anticipated just this very switch in the party line to take place as soon as Hitler was demolished. Such predictions called for no marvelous intuition.

Stalin was in deep trouble from June 21, 1941, until his troops were enabled to shoot their way into a Berlin demolished by American bombers, marching on American canned rations from the stockyards of Chicago and the orchards and farms of California, and equipped with American vehicles and guns.

In this country, it was Browder's mission to promote trust in Russia and beguile the naive American native with sentimental propaganda about the fundamental likeness of our people and theirs and the rightist tendency of Communism in Russia.

Now, however, Russia's war with Hitler which was Russia's only war, has ended. And the United States is militarily and politically committed to the destruction of Russia's other enemy, Japan, and the delivery of an Asiatic empire to Russia, free of any cost to Russia in exertion, life or material.

There being no further reason to placate the American people, the old purposes of the International Communist program and activity may be avowed again.

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT's death might have hurried the pitcher's delivery in this case, but that is one of those propositions which he, with his ready wit, would have called "iffy."

The Communists had got from him about all that he could give. Through the American people, he saved their country, made possible the destruction of their only formidable rival in Europe and delivered the continent to them from the Pyrenees to the Bosphorus, with the dividend in Asia already voted and soon to be delivered.

At home, since his accession, President Truman has plainly shown, as all Americans knew all the time, that he is ill-at-ease in the presence of the fellow-traveler and so, inevitably and soon, he would have rejected the Communists in any guise and their collaborators in favor of Americans who speak the American language.

Whatever the Communists do to Browder, and even though they should lure him to Russia and shoot him as they did so many others for ideological error, he may point to many advantages wrought by his association with the New Deal.

The American Merchant Marine is controlled by a party line subsidiary.

The new manifesto frankly calls for a resumption of the riots and sabotage which delighted the palace guard of the New Deal and the Kremlin in the organizing days of the CIO.

Obedience will follow and it will be possible now to observe which of the party line organizations, publications and individual maverickers abruptly abandon the no-strike and unity pledges and justify all this as the irresistible working of dynamic democracy.

Just as we practically told you a couple weeks ago, it's "Notorious" with Ingrid Bergman for David Selznick. The picture starts in September and it will be Ingrid's swan song under the exclusive Selznick banner.

I NOTICED a beautiful girl at the Walter Winchell party—a tall, stunning-looking charmer and different. I asked her name and was told Kizmi (probably Kizmi Goodnight). But all punning aside, the story about her is an interesting one. She was driving home from Palm Springs and stopped at a gas station. A woman excitedly asked her name. That woman was Mrs. Howard Hawks, who didn't do so badly when she picked Lauren Bacall. Meanwhile, if Mrs. Hawks doesn't act, Sam Goldwyn will nab Kizmi-good or Kizmi-quick for one of the girls in "The Kid From Brooklyn." P. S.—I suspect Winchell gave her that name.

WE ARE INTERESTED in the winners of "The Best Film Plays" of the year edited annually by John Gassner and Dudley Nichols. The new book for the 1943-44 season is out with a preface by Darryl F. Zanuck. Darryl, by the way, comes up with a couple of the prizes, getting "Wilson" and "The Purple Heart," his two personally produced pictures for 20th on the list of the first nine. 20th also takes a bow with "The Oxbow Incident." Paramount also gets three: "Going My Way," "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" and "Hail the Conquering Hero." Warners have "Casablanca" and "Watch on the Rhine." M-G-M comes in with "Dragon Seed"—which makes nine, doesn't it?

HAL WALKER, one of Hollywood's new directors, started as a taxi driver in Chicago. He says: "Next to attending Wellesley, it's the most cultural training in the country!" But rough, ready and tough as Chicago cabbies may be—they've given him an idea for a movie story which he's titled "Don't You Know There's a War On?" And the star who is interested in it is Bing Crosby. Walker is sort of a protégé of Bing's, who helped him get his first directorial job at Para. Just before Bing went overseas he read the story and said it was a natural for him. Lottie Lamour and Bob Hope—no bad

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Dean Murphy, 20th Century actor, comes into a $175,000 legacy June 5. He remains in New York despite all his money to do a show on Broadway. George Jessel says his new flame, Lorraine Otto, Earl Carroll girl, looks like all three of his ex-wives: Dashiell Hammett, author of the famed "Thin Man," is now a corporal in the Army in Alaska and likes it so well he'll live there after the war; M-Sgt. Ezra Stone, who was so very sick for months at March Field Hospital, is well again and returns to New York for an overseas assignment. Maxine, Chico Marx's daughter, is being screen-tested by Warners. The younger generation is also represented by Director Roy Del Ruth's handsome son, who signed an acting contract with Warners.

RILL POWELL and Diana Lewis celebrated their fifth anniversary at Las Vegas, where they were married. They visited the jewelry store where Bill bought her a $1250 wedding ring, called on the justice of the peace and really had themselves a time; Lena Horne has a singing role in "Till the Clouds Roll By," the Jerome Kern story; John Farrow returned from overseas with a terrific cold but had to leave immediately for Los Angeles to join the Naval Advisory Board with the Australian delegates; Eddie Ryan is a constant visitor to the bedside of Anne Blyth, the girl who was so seriously hurt in an accident; on the train that brought Bogey and Baby back were Louise Albritton, Hal Wallis, the Frances Leders and Eddie Stevenson, designer. Quite a galaxy.

House and Senate Committee on Reorganization of Congress brought out one interesting bit of intelligence. The Senate Committee on Manufactures, of which Sen. John H. Overton of Louisiana is chairman, has six full-time employees paid for by the taxpayers.

Yet the committee has held only one meeting in two years!

PRESS RELEASE from Chairman Maverick of the Smaller War Plants Corporation—or Maury blow your horn:

Note to Editors: Maury Maverick will begin a new term as "Champion of the Small Business Man" on Thursday. We thought you might be interested in a picture.

You mean a man as modest as Maury would consent to pose?

"I talked it over with his family and I figured my broken heart was worth 40 grand—plus deductible taxes, of course."

springs eternal." Or, as Miss Reid often says: "You can't make a chloris out of a flunkener!"

MORE INSIDE stuff from San Francisco—or don't try to keep nothing from Dixon:

Boves at the opera house are held by San Francisco's top social set. They pay for them by the year.

The State Department, however, took over the edifice completely for the big conference and set up one of the most elaborate systems to repel gatecrashers. Ever denied, to gain admission, one has to carry enough credentials to weight down a pack mule.

The other evening a couple of reporters entered the box assigned to them in the dress circle and found a stately old dowager comfortably ensconced therein. She turned out to be haughty, too.

One of the reporters hinted that he and his associates would like to go to work, whereupon the grande dame gave them a frozen look and asked who was stopping them.

"But you don't understand," protested the journalist. "This is our box."

"It is not," snapped the lady, indignantly. "I have a season ticket!"

HOW TIE doughty dowager got past all the guards without conference credentials has become one of the conclave's minor mysteries.

PREMIER MOLOTOV is trying to learn English and Secretary Stettinius is trying to learn Russian. My State Department agents report both are making splendid progress.

Molotov has completely mastered one English word, "O.K." But Stettinius has achieved two whole words in Russian: "All right."

Maybe that's as far as they should go. If all they can say to each other is "All right" and "O.K." it might prove the salvation of the world.

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: A White House meeting of Boston's distinguished prelate, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, and President Truman, is in the date-setting stage... The President hopes that Archbishop Cushing can visit with him in Washington sometime this week, preferably on Friday... On June 2 or 3, President Truman will fly to San Francisco to address the diplomats of the world now assembled there.

THE NAVY IS SCHEDULED to take over the Bethlehem-Hingham shipyard on Aug. 1. Contradictory to earlier and more optimistic estimates of the number of workers to be employed regularly at the famous yard, new forecasts set the permanent personnel at 2500. Publicly releases ballyhooing the new musical "Marinka" refer to Ethel Green, one of the principals, as "George M. Cohan's ex-wife"... But the billing of the show will carry the onetime musical comedy star's name as "Ethel Green"—without the "Cohan" being appended... Ethel Green's decided hit at The Mayfair here had an immediate reaction in New York... The great little impressionist and singer has been signed for her most important, New York booking as headliner of the Copacabana's show due to open June 13... Enric Madriguera, Russell Swan and Mario and Flora are on the bill with Mitzi.

MISS GREEN will be the visiting star tonight of the Hotel Statler dinner in honor of retiring Headmaster James E. Downey, of the High School of Commerce... Fred Allen, an old High School of Commerce boy himself (class of 1911), will be the master of ceremonies... Fred has worked as hard preparing his material for the Downey party as he would labor over a radio show... The energetic Citizens' Committee of the U.S.O., the most active and successful civilian organization devoted to giving entertainment to the boys in uniform now operating in this area, cut-did itself when it arranged for aerial transportation to Camp Edwards for Bernice Parks and Mitzi Green... The two young headliners played to nearly 2000 veterans at the Falmouth cantonment... Heretofore it has been possible for the Citizens' Committee to furnish shows only on Sunday—a day of rest for visiting stars—to Camp Edwards because of the long trip over the road... Air transport simplifies the business immeasurably and makes the voluntary assignment much more attractive to entertainers.

MRS. CATHERINE CONNELLY, widowed mother of Presidential Sec. Matthew J. Connelly, cherishes the affectionate autograph inscribed by the President... It reads: "To a dear, sweet, lovable mother of a great man and a dear personal friend of mine... The date was Jan. 20, the day before the inauguration, and when the signature was 'Harry S. Truman, Vice-President'... Mrs. Connelly, in her late sixties, will continue to reside in Clinton, although her son in Washington has pleaded with her to go to the Capital... Mrs. Connelly wishes her family—her son, Bourke, in Hartford, and a daughter in Baltimore, and Matthew, to have a permanent home near at 37 Fairmount st., Clinton.

NEW YORK, May 29—Dozens of New Yorkers have been hoaxed by the new taxi racket. It couldn't be simpler. The taxi driver, with an elated gee-whiz attitude, tells his fare that someone left a box of nylons in the back of his cab.

The passenger, eager to have the passenger, buys them for $5 or $10 or more. Of course, they always turn out to be raven... Gladys Shelley, lyricist and playwright ("The Duchess of Chatham"), has written with David Paul, a new song called "Music I Love," which James Melton will introduce... Lew Parker, the comic, turned down a screen offer last week because he doesn't want to be typed the way Lassie of screen fame is. "Wait and see," he predicts with utter gloom, "they'll never give me a chance to do anything but dog park."

Mitzi Green

DICK JURGENS, the former handleader, now a marine, will take a jazz outfit to every Pacific base so far established. He starts in two weeks... Alvin Curtis has been suspended by Universal for refusing to play the villain in Yvonne DeCarlo's new film, "Frontier Gal." He'll work out his suspension on his ranch... Don't laugh, please. Crooner Jerry Wayne has a sprained wrist and shoulder. He fell out of bed while doing setting-up exercises!... Helena Bliss, the ingenue, will startle everyone. She's writing a cook book... S. Hurok has won his suit against the Richbamba—to the tune of $4800—for violation of a contract with Carmen Amaya... Robert Morley, the British actor, is due to make a Broadway appearance in the fall.

CONGRESS and the Army will tiff over the system of discharging men—Congress alleging that the system is being disregarded in many cases... Tallulah Bankhead and Henry Hull don't adore each other... Mitzi Green, the actress, hasn't heard from her soldier husband, Joe Penney, in several weeks. He's believed to be somewhere in Germany... Arline Judge's divorce has become final, leaving her free to become the bride of her favorite advertising man... Billy Boze and Jockey Sammy Kenick have called the whole thing off.

WASHINGTON, May 29—The Office of Defense Transportation put on a radio program the other day called "Transportation Crisis." It was a modest affair.

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, the ODT head, confided to me, however, that a much more elaborate show had been scheduled for several weeks ago. Big name performers were to be brought from all over the country.

This show too was to be called "Transportation Crisis." But it was called off because of the transportation crisis!

MR. TOM BLAKE, of the State Department, took a group of reporters through the old German embassy the other day. Before entering he pleaded:

"For heaven's sake, don't take any souvenir. I understand Von Ribbentrop is holding me personally responsible."

MR. ROBERT COGSWELL, administrator of District of Columbia Rent Control, is a man who does not easily rattle. But he has just received a letter from a tenant which has him completely mystified. The writer apparently is gripped about something and wishes steps taken, but that's as far as Mr. Cogswell has been able to decipher.

The letter—all one sentence—follows:

"The acute housing shortage still obtains, and fire hazards exist at every turn, fire hazards as well as insurmountable varieties of inconveniences, winding up and down stairs and through other rooms to bathrooms—noises—defective plumbing, old and obsolete, buoyant interference of every degree, too much, and too little of everything—service, heat and cold, and all we want to do is carry on somehow—just muddle, or is it 'muddle' through—one place or another, and an established residence of three years certainly can be the devil you know! an against the devil you don't know! and hope

"GOOD, GOOD, GOOD" . . . that's this stunning two-piece dress of gray rayon taffeta cross barred in white . . . and the fetching fantasy of a tapper. The skirt, which flares slightly from the hips . . . is combined with a cutaway front jacket . . . sporting white lace applique on its turned back collar . . . while three self-covered buttons mark the front closing. Note the deep armhole sleeves of this Demoiselle designed dressy daytime frock. Warner Star Alexis Smith models it to perfection.—R. M.

Beauty and Fashion Editor

IT ISN'T OFTEN a dermatologist will part with one of his choice formulae . . . however simple it may be . . . but the art of persuasion being one of our talents . . . we succeeded in getting from him a home treatment for hair-glow that will bring new life to your scalp and a rejuvenated gloss to your tresses.

It was because so many women have written me asking how to correct only stringy hair . . . and dull, lifeless locks that I took the problem directly to a scientific source for solution. Always the guinea pig for our readers . . . we tried it first . . . and now we are passing it on to you as an effective and result-producing home treatment.

EASY TO APPLY

The basic ingredient of the treatment is a kitchen commodity that you'll be able to take off the shelf . . . and use as part of a corrective campaign against only stringy hair . . . and yes, even for premature greying hair. The home treatment is yours for the request.

Simple to ready and extremely easy to apply and massage into the scalp . . . it amazed me when I got through trying it on my own locks. A new sheen came to my hair, a clean brilliance that was remarkable to behold . . . although I used the treatment only twice.

Now, more than ever, the conviction is there . . . that no girl need sport hair that drips oil . . . that hangs in stringy strands . . . that clings to her scalp in hugging tightness. And, coincidentally . . . gals with only hair usually are prone to frequent facial eruptions . . . since the excess oil seeking an outlet for its overabundance . . . forces its flow through the tiny facial cells. Any doctor will tell you there is a definite affinity between the hair and the face . . . and that more often than not . . . a healthy scalp is indicative of a healthy complexion.

ONCE EVERY 10 DAYS

You may use this treatment as frequently as once every 10 days or every fortnight. Five or six such treatments . . . the dermatologist advised me . . . will greatly improve the hair and scalp condition. Sometimes the simplest prescription does the trick . . . when other and more intricate methods fail. Most skin specialists do not on simple Rx writing . . . and their hair-glow treatment is one of them.

If you desire this home corrective hair-glow treatment, write me, care of Beauty Dept., Boston Evening American, in enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and it will be sent you by return mail.

Soft Bands at Borders

By BETTINA BEDWELL

FROM LONDON Capt. Molyneux, famed Paris designer, sends over to this country a new treatment to give flattering softness to your simple daytime dress.

He puts sheer, soft bands around the borders of a lot of his prettiest models, so they seem to melt off into nothing in a very pretty way. The bands are usually made of organza, or of net when the dress is more formal.

One of the Molyneux models with a softness to the edges is sketched. This simple daytime dress is made of beige pure silk crepe in a soft pinky tone of this practical color. The borders on the dress are of brown organza and they help to make it very becoming as well as softer looking. Big patch pockets also have brown bands.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, MONDAY—My daughter, Anna, has been here for two days, and for the first time I have a sense of actually getting some things permanently moved out of the big house. She is one of the most satisfactory people I know to work with, because she knows so clearly what she wants or does not want.

Anna took certain things purely for their sentimental value. I imagine that will be one of the things all of the children will want to do, and it will be fortunate if they do not have sentiment about the same objects.

OUR CONTINUED rain and mud forced me to give Fala a bath yesterday. The mud he was bringing into the house was more than I could stand. I have not bathed either a dog or a baby in a good many years, and I found that I was almost as wet as Fala when it was over. Having fought cleanliness with all his might, Fala, however, was very proud of himself when he was all brushed and combed and clean, and he seemed to be showing off to everybody all the rest of the evening.

When I feed Fala I make him go through all his tricks, but he evidently feels that his age makes rolling over too childish.

MY LILIES of the valley and forsythia have stopped flowering, and it seems as though the syringa is never going to come out. A little sun would bring everything out very quickly, but even my birds seemed to be hushed and dispirited this morning.

There is a beautiful cock pheasant who struts across the road as I drive to the big house every day. Fala gets all excited, but the pheasant never hurries and seems to know that he is quite safe. He looks as though he were saying: "Look at me: I am one of the most beautiful creatures you have ever seen." I haven't seen the hen as yet, but I am sure she must be a particularly modest one. She must have had to admire her husband so often!

LOVELY LADY is any girl's claim if her topknot justifies her facial appeal. Not all of us have the fragile beauty of Dresden-china-like Columbia Star Anita Louise . . . but we do all right in our own little way . . . if our hair is bright and our scalp is healthy to permit pretty pomp in our hairdo. A home hair-glow treatment . . . which a dermatologist imparted to us after persuasion . . . is yours for the asking.

Coffee Cakes for Any Meal

By MARTHA LEE

WITH THE CONTENTS of the family sugar bin somewhat scant these days, sugar-saving delicacies are headed tableward. Folks look forward to something sweet to eat to complete their light lunch or hearty dinner. To give them favorite sweet and luscious foods, homemakers are making wise use of other less scarce sweeteners—corn syrup, honey, molasses. These glistening syrups all do their tasty best to keep dessert time a favorite time with the family.

A basic quick coffee cake, with melt-away sweetness, finishes a meal on a most delightful note when partnered with seasonal fruits.

Here is a basic coffee cake recipe with a dessert touch made pleasingly sweet and tenderly moist with such good foods as enriched flour, egg, corn syrup or honey and milk. Such a coffee cake lends itself tastily to elegant fruits and crumbly sugar toppings.

QUICK COFFEE CAKE

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
2 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt 1 egg
½ cup corn syrup or honey
½ cup milk

3 tbsp. melted shortening
Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat egg, add syrup, milk, and shortening. Blend thoroughly. Add to flour mixture, stirring until flour is moistened. Pour batter over fruit topping in greased 8-inch pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) 25 minutes. Makes one 8-inch coffee cake.

FRUIT TOPPING

2 tbsp. melted butter or margarine ¼ cup corn syrup
¼ cup sugar
Berries or other fruit

Put melted butter or margarine in bottom of an 8-inch cake pan. Pour syrup and sugar evenly over the melted butter. One such way to arrange plump blueberries and use as few as ½ cup of these delightful berries for one coffee cake is to make a 1½-inch border of fruit at the edge of pan. An equally pleasing fruity flavor is achieved by making a berry circle 3 inches in diameter in center of pan. Just a little fruit gives a world of flavor to the velvety coffee cake.

This cherry-filled coffee cake, made from a luscious coffee cake recipe, is a real flavor winner with those who dote on fruity rich coffee cakes. Inside this elegant coffee cake is hidden the sweet goodness of cherries sprinkled with a melting cinnamon-sugar crumble. This recipe uses but a cup of sugar.

CHERRY-FILLED COFFEE CAKE

Sugar Crumble Mixture:

½ cup sugar
¼ cup enriched flour
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cups cooked drained cherries

Mix sugar, flour and cinnamon. Cut or rub in margarine until mixture is crumbly.

Batter:

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup sugar
2 tsp. baking powder 1 egg
¾ tsp. salt ¼ cup milk

3 tbsp. melted shortening
Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Beat egg. Add milk and melted shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring until flour is moistened. Spread half the batter into greased pan, 8x8 inches. Cover with cherries. Sprinkle half the sugar crumble mixture over cherries. Cover with remaining batter. Sprinkle with remaining crumble. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) 25 minutes. Makes one coffee cake, 8x8 inches.

Most Tip Prizes Go to Women

Women won both top and second honors in the weekly money tip contest conducted by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, their alertness making a clean sweep of five major prizes in the tipster pool, which has been doubled from $25 to $50.

Three women picked off $5 awards for tips on a Lynn accountant in court charged with assault and battery on a girl; two dead in a Water st., Medford, fire, and a 5-year-old child lost in the woods at Wolfboro, N. H. Two other women were widowed again to win $3 prizes for a tip on a baby drowned in Chelsea creek and a steer running wild in Brighton and Newton.

These awards serve to illustrate that unusual news or picture tips—outside the scope of routine news—have an excellent chance of winning prizes. Likely to be rated high are human interest stories.

Other prizes last week included seven of $3 each and 15 of $1 each—with women being widowed exactly 62 per cent of the $50 pool.

Alert readers, to cash in a share of these weekly awards, need only to call Liberty 4000 and ask for the Tip Editor. If your tip is good—and you're first—then you're in the money.

affair that Loew's State and Orpheum patrons are certain to find most amusing.

Diverting entertainment will also be available at the Metropolitan Theater in "The Affairs of Susan," a light-hearted harlequinade involving fascinating Joan Fontaine with suitors George Brent, Dennis O'Keefe, Dan DeLoe and Walter Abel. For a feature, there will be "Molly and Me," a comedy reuniting that priceless team of Gracie Fields and Monty Woolley and featuring our favorite young actor, Roddy McDowall, and the very funny Reginald Gardiner.

The Alan Ladd-starring turf story, "Salty O'Rourke," which terminates two thriving weeks at the Met tonight, moves to the Paramount and Fenway screens tomorrow.

Over at Keith-Memorial, Betty Grable and Dick "The Tonks" Haymes continue to make friends and win quantities of new fans in "Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe," a lavish musical.

She wants to be a kissless bride! He agrees, but walks in his sleep! You can guess what happens then... but you can't imagine how funny it is!

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—New York city's 22,000 auxiliary firemen found today the allure had been eliminated from their jobs.

Because of accident problems, these new orders were issued:

No more rides on the pretty red engines—and no more slides down the shiny brass pole.

Why We Should Treat German PWs Tough!

By AUSTEN LAKE

TODAY'S MAILBAG BRINGS TWO typical letters—both well-intentioned. They are from as opposite poles of American thought as Spitzbergen is from Little America.

One is from a local social-theorist who rebukes me for my "spirit of un-Christian revenge" against our German PWs and says, "Your constant advocacy of revenge is to sponsor our own national degradation. Nothing so gauges a nation's civilization, or its human enlightenment, as its treatment of war prisoners. For this exemplifies its attitude toward the weak and helpless. No nation is greater than that..."

Whoa! Wait a minute! My advocacy of severe, realistic and even harsh disciplinary treatment of German PWs is NOT prompted by revenge. It is based on pure international ECONOMICS. I would engrave indelibly on German minds, both those of the PWs and the Reich civilians, the hard realities of war. We want the cost of this world horror tattooed so memorably on Germany's national soul (sic) that future wars will loom, not as a glorified gentleman's game but as uneconomic bankruptcy. We want this bitter impregnation to remain through the ages.

We want Germany to be its own victim of "total peace" as emphatically as we other nations were victim of "total war," a peace as pitiless as its war was merciless. We want to disabuse German mass mind of Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche's philosophies which Hitler and his horde made into national doctrine—i. e. that war is a recurrent avocation of the super-race, that the destiny of strong nations is to feed on defenseless neighbors, that war is a therapeutic spiritual purge which purifies supermen from peace-time fatty degeneration.

Now Read the Other Letter

WE MUST STRIVE TO CONVINCE habitual aggressor nations like Germany and Japan that they may not follow the periodic whimsy of their latest leaders, whether the name be Bismarck, or Wilhelm Hohenzollern or Adolf Hitler or Johann Schmidt, and then go scot-free to rest and recuperate for another attempt. This lesson MUST be made unforgettable, lest unborn American sons and grandsons be forced to pay for the weaknesses of our social theory some thirty years hence. We followed social theory in the last war and it spawned a frightful catastrophe. Let's follow social realism now and administer preventive medicine, however harsh to the taste.

That is why I strum monotonously on this single harp-string—"Teach Germans the hard, realistic cost to the full bitter limit." That is a sound program of "re-education."

All right! Now read this second letter. It comes unsolicited from an American mess sergeant at a nearby German PW camp. He signs his name and gives his postal address. The soldier trusts me to protect his identity. I have shown it to my managing editor to establish authenticity. Other than that this soldier will remain anonymous.

He encloses the last two daily menus fed his PWs and writes: "I am sending you menus these German PWs were fed the last two days. They are typical. I have served 28 months overseas in combat duty and it makes me mad to dish up such chow to these PWs and then go home on pass and find my own family living on the leftovers from lend-lease—such stuff as spam and delicatessen grub and whatever they can beg from their rationed shopkeepers..."

Making Jail a Pleasure

RAISE YOUR HANDS, SCHOLARS! How many of you, whatever your financial condition, feed as well as that? No hands, eh? And is this the hard realism guaranteed to teach Germany that the price of war is too devastatingly steep for future attempts? No! The only facility lacking to make this a pleasant seaside vacation is a suntan beach and cheery female laughter by moonlight. They live in clean, weather-tight barracks, sleep in cozy cots, wear neat clothes and good shoes. They have sports equipment, musical instruments, an occasional movie, a canteen, and keep pets.

Do you wonder that the majority of these PWs don't want to be shipped immediately home to starving, bombed-out Germany? Nor do I wish to see them go either! I advocate they be fed just enough solid calories to keep them at physical work-fitness and be put at heavy labor in the Allied bombed areas of Europe until every stick and stone they demolished is restored to its pre-war state. Then let them serve a pre-determined term of useful employment as partial restitution for the mass murder and property losses incurred by impoverished families of these lands—just as we keep chronic criminals in granite and steel enclosures to pay off their debts to society. How much reform is it to make jail a pleasure?

Red Sox Get Early Line On Top Hill Performers

By HUCK FINNEGAN

The Big Four on the Red Sox pitching staff when the season opened were Rex Cecil, Jim Wilson, Clem Dreiswerd and Joe Bowman. At least they pitched in that order in the first four games against the Yanks and A's today, as the White Sox closed their series at Fenway and the Indians prepare to move in for a Memorial Day double-header. Cecil was on his way to Louisville. Dreiswerd was in the Army. Bowman was in Cincinnati (sold). Wilson alone remained, and Wilson's record was 1 won, 5 lost.

Poor judgment on Cronin's part, whose judgment on pitchers has won no Pulitzer awards since he came to Boston? Not particularly, so far as this refugee from baseball since June of '43 is concerned. Cecil, in training, looked like the hottest thing in Red Sox ballistics. He was No. 1 on merit. But when the bell rang he was a different Cecil. Look at his record: April 17—Kayoed by Yanks in 7th. Lost 7-3. April 22—Kayoed by A's in 6th. Lost 6-1. April 28—Beat A's 8-4. May 5—Kayoed by Yanks in 6th. Lost 7-3. May 11—Beat Cleveland 8-4. May 20—Kayoed by White Sox in 7th. Lost 4-2. May 28—Kayoed by White Sox in 5th. Lost 8-6.

He won two, yes, but when he beat the A's they scored three runs in the ninth, and Del Baker, in Cronin's absence, was on the point of knocking him. When he beat Cleveland he gave up two hits, two walks, two runs in the ninth, and Ryba had to save him. He had his chance. More, while he was getting seven starting jobs, his mates were rooting for Pinky Woods, Red Barnett and Clem Hausmann to get one. The ball players know their pitchers. They weren't sorry to see Cecil go.

Bowman? Joe won 12, lost 8 for the Sox last year. The White Sox were his first cousins. Not this year. Here's his '45 record: April 20—Kayoed by A's in third, trailing 4-1. Sox lost 5-3. April 29—Kayoed by A's in 8th, score 5-1. Woods relieved and won in 13th. May 20—Kayoed by White Sox in third, trailing 4-0. Red Sox lost 8-2.

Bowman was well along in years, getting no better. Let's see what he did for McKeechie. Dreiswerd? A control pitcher whose fast one wouldn't dent your hat. He made two starts, finished neither. No cinch to stick around if Army hadn't grabbed him.

Wilson? A retiring kid with a barrel of stuff who needs only a psychological lift, like a few runs, to win consistently. Lost five-hitters to Cleveland and Detroit. In 36 innings Sox got him just one run. From Ferriss, Wilson, O'Neill, Hausmann and Woods the Sox can find their starting quartet. Judd could help immensely, and Terry should. From Ryba and Barnett they'll get plenty of relief. Vic Johnson has had little chance to prove his worth.

At any rate, the Sox are finding out before June who their best pitchers are, and that's something they never did succeed in doing when Mickey Harris, Tex Hughson and Earl Johnson were trying to break in back in '41.

The White Sox take off for Philadelphia tonight after their game with the Red Sox today, and the Cleveland Indians move in for a Memorial Day double-header and a single game Thursday. Cleveland didn't look like much when the season opened. Gone from the '44 team were Keltner, Heath, Rosar, Mack. However:

after dubbing around in the cellar for a month. Manager Lou Boudreau traded Cullenbine to Detroit for Ross and Meyer, and the Indians started to go places. Ross fitted in nicely at third. Meyer at second. Then they picked up a hitting pitcher in Jim Steiner.

They have won their last five games and are close to the first division. They are getting excellent pitching from Embree, Gromek, Reynolds and Smith, and Bagby should get going soon.

The White Sox got no batting practice today. Dykes wouldn't let him hit yesterday after Sunday's sorry exhibition, and they came up with 15 hits to beat the Red Sox 8 to 6. Said Dykes after the game "Guess the idea is to let them save their hits for the game." Cecil was shipped to Louisville right after the game. Ryba relieved Cecil for the first time in three years the White Sox shackled him. Ferriss pinch hit for Garbark in the eighth, hit Grove's first pitch for a single to right to score Tobin. Before the game Ferriss sold two $1000 bonds on the Common. Last night he appeared at two different places. The Boston public will have him worn out if they don't let up. Tony the "Cooch" had "four for four," and he's nearing 38.

Midget Auto Race Cancelled

Opening of midget auto racing at the Franklin Speedway on tomorrow's holiday was canceled today as a result of a Regional Office of Defense Transportation ruling that the ban on auto racing still was in force.

Future meetings which had been scheduled to follow the return of racing at tomorrow's expected inaugural also have been postponed pending further word from Washington on the situation.

The sponsors of midget auto racing previously had obtained approval of the War Reconstruction Administration in Washington for the opening meeting, but have decided to postpone operations until the matter can be adjusted.

Detroit Track Seeks OK Pending Decision

LANSING, Mich., May 22 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Delmuth and counsel for the Detroit Racing Ass'n asked the State Supreme Court today to permit the Fair Grounds track in Detroit to be operated pending a high court decision on a ruling of Circuit Judge Miller that pari-mutuel betting in Michigan is illegal. Judge Miller had enjoined the operations. Counsel argued that Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Rohan, the injunction petitioners who live near the track, would not suffer by a continuation of the racing but that if racing were not permitted this summer the state would lose upward of $1,000,000 and the City of Detroit a similar amount in revenues from the betting. The petition will be heard next week.

Monster Boxing Show For North End School

By JACK CONWAY

BOXING, WITH Matchmaker Rip Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. carrying the banner, has dedicated itself to do something big for the children of service men and for other people living in the North End. Financial help to educational institutions will be part of this work.

Matchmaker Valenti is in New York today making arrangements for a monster boxing show that will be staged at Fenway Park on June 25 for the Christopher Columbus School of the North End.

Tom Yawkey, owner of the Red Sox, and General Manager Eddie Collins have pledged their full support to Matchmaker Valenti.

The Christopher Columbus School was recently purchased by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing from the City of Boston. Archbishop Cushing is giving his full cooperation to a group of North End citizens who have agreed to raise funds to outfit the school. The committee has turned to Matchmaker Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. to arrange a boxing and fight that will raise the needed money.

It was natural that the Goodwin A. C. promoter would agree to give his time and money to help. Valenti has put on several shows for the Disabled Veterans Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser, and he feels that the promotion on June 25 will aid hundreds of children of war veterans.

The Christopher Columbus School is one of several new institutions Archbishop Cushing has taken over in an effort to help the people of his diocese.

Four 10-Round Bouts

THERE WILL be four 10-round bouts in which boxers of Italian ancestry will be featured on one end of the card. These boxers will be Ralph Zanelli of Providence, Sal Bartolo of East Boston, NBA featherweight champion, Jake LaMotta of New York and Lulu Costantino of New York.

Gus Meil, sensational Montreal lightweight, has been signed to clash with Costantino. Top opponents will be secured for the other boxers on the card.

While in New York, Matchmaker Valenti will talk with managers of some of the leading boxers in the country, and he will come up with what should be one of the finest fistic programs ever presented in this city.

Jaffra Fight Star Garcia

THE GOODWIN Club will have Sammy Garcia of Quincy in action against Harry Jaffra of Baltimore, former bantamweight and featherweight champion of the world, in a 10-round bout at the Arena on Friday night. The winner of the Garcia-Jaffra bout may furnish an opponent for Sal Bartolo at the Fenway Park fistic carnival on June 25.

Jaffra is the top boxing card in Baltimore. In recent starts, he has twice beaten Leroy Jackson, while he held Phil Terranova to a draw.

Downey Dinner Tonight

THE JAMES E. Downey testimonial dinner will be held at the Hotel Statler tonight with more than 800 persons present. The High School of Commerce headmaster is 70 years of age and he will retire from the Boston school service in June after a brilliant career as an educator.

Commerce graduates, business and civic leaders, with Fred Allen as toastmaster, will join in making the affair a great success. Part of the speaking end of the program will be broadcast by station WCOP. Hum and Strum of WCOP will be among the entertainers at the dinner.

Gov. Maurice J. Tobin, George Hansen, president of the High School of Commerce Alumni Ass'n and president of Chandler & Co., Chairman of the School Committee Mike Ward, and former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, will be among the speakers who will be introduced by Fred Allen.

Allen came to Boston last Wednesday so that he would have ample time in which to prepare his remarks. A graduate of the High School of Commerce with the class of 1911, Allen is expected to be at his best tonight. Arthur O'Keefe, in charge of the High School of Commerce Educational Fund, will report the amount of money that has been received by the fund. The fund will be used to give travel scholarships to the best fitted Commerce students. All-round qualifications, rather than merely school marks, will be the deciding factor in these awards.

Governor Tobin will be making his appearance at the dinner as a graduate of the High School of Commerce as well as the chief executive of the state.

The dinner has been set for 6:30 p. m.

Sexton Takes On Medford's Vital Tilt With Somerville

By MIKE GILLOOLY

World's heavyweight champion Frank Sexton, Sedalia, O., will be risking his title tomorrow night when he'll face former crownholder Sandor Szabo, Santa Monica, Cal., in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling program at the Arena.

The pair have met three times earlier this season, with each winning a bout and the other going to a draw.

Schoolboy baseball will take its first dip into big league setting tomorrow afternoon when the holiday program will be headed by the Somerville-Medford clash at Braves Field, starting at 3 p. m. and possibly ending all question as to the champion of the Greater Boston league.

These teams will be the first—and possibly the only ones to take advantage of the Braves' offer of free use of the park for any game this season.

And too, it could possibly be a preview of what the fans will be seeing in one of the Eastern State Championship playoffs which will open at the Hive next Monday. Right now, Somerville is camped nicely in second place in the circuit standings, just one full game behind Coach Art Tirrell's undefeated club. Somerville's only setback in loop competition was its first meeting with the Mustangs (8-5).

But since that date, Coach Barney Curtin has done a lot of experimenting with his club. He's hoping that he can drive his outfit into at least a first place deadlock so that he'll still run high in consideration of the tourney teams.

MARCONI VS. DI BIASI

Nick Marconi, only veteran pitcher from last year, will probably be on the mound for Somerville with Ken Goodwin and Ed 'Lefty' Corbett held in reserve. Medford will probably rely on the speed ball of Joe Di Biasi to advance its undefeated streak, to 14 straight and 11 in league competition.

Lyman Owen, chairman of the Jamboree Football Committee of the South Shore, announced that eight schools had definitely agreed to the carnival . . . he listed Quincy, North Quincy, Brockton, Hingham, Whitman, Hanover, Randolph and Abington . . . with Weymouth, Plymouth, Milton and Kingston pending . . . Bridgewater is definitely out . . . but now there's dissension in the ranks, coming from the Quincy schools . . . and it can be traced to the 'root of all evil' . . . the committee wants to split the proceeds . . . Quincy wants to put proceeds toward the betterment of sports on the South Shore.

Boston English High School's Ray Shaw has to keep on his toes these days on the Blue and Blue mound . . . for it won't be long before he'll have Cy Shaw, Jr., a cousin, giving him some keen competition . . . the younger Shaw is being groomed for St. Clement's baseball.

Jimmy Duffy, assistant director of physical education in the Boston school ranks, keeps interest alive in his intermediate school baseball leagues . . . one of his tricks is to issue weekly league standings along with the scores of the week . . . leaders to date include the William Blackstone nine in District I; Thomas Hart in District II; James Timilty in District III and Washington Irving in District IV.

BROCKTON THRIVES

In the midst of all the following about spring football practice, Brockton High School hasn't broken an inch . . . as a matter of fact, Coach Marion Roberts and his assistant, Frank Saba, still have the Shoe City gang working out at Eldon Keith Field . . . they, too, hailed the return of the sun, getting in lengthy kicking and passing drills with Jack Sarsion shining.

Lawrence High School's stand at the top of the Essex County League is no accident . . . Coach Mark Devlin has another of his crackerjack outfits in operation . . . the top four batters in the circuit are all from Lawrence . . .
